Free iPhone App for Moon Changes.

Here is a Moon-changes program (I designed and my staff put together) that fits the iPhone and perhaps some of the other phones of a similar size. Using your iPhone just got to:

www.AstrologyLand.com

If you access this URL from your iPhone you will automatically be routed to the correct size for your iPhone. If you go to this site from your computer, you will get the entire site. Bookmark this site like any other Internet site link on your iPhone and click on it anytime you want to check the Moon.

This mobile program gives you the current phase (angular separation), what Zodiac sign the Moon is in (degrees and minutes), an interpretation for the Sun-Moon right now, plus the date and time of the next New and Full Moon, the tidal forces, and which Lunar Day for dharma practice it is (1 to 30). Feel free to ask questions.

This will work both vertically and switch to horizontal when you do, and on the iPad and probably other phones with Internet access.

This is the first of many mobile programs that will work on your iPhone and other devices. Let me know how you like them and by all means share them with friends and visit the mother-ship from your computer at:
