As long as I am thinking of the great singer/songwriter Dick Siegel, here is a photo I took of him about a month ago playing a stunning set at the Harvest Gathering in Lake City, Michigan. Siegel is also on Facebook. Siegel is one of the few composers that does both folk and jazz. He has a number of albums, which I imagine you can find on his web site. Two of my favorites are “Snap!” and “A Little Pain Never Hurts.” Here is the link:
