

INTO THE WOODS

April 12, 2011

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

Sun and a good temperature to be outside, and into the woods I went. Not too much happening yet but I post this photo of moss on a log.

The long capsules rising up contain the spores. Bright green moss is one of the first signs of spring amidst the dry gray leaves of last fall.

